

Curriculum vitae

Abderraouf EL ANTARI

National Institute of Agronomic Research
Regional Center for Agricultural Research in Marrakech,
BP 533, Marrakech, Maroc.

Research Unit :

Plant Breeding and Quality

Analysis Laboratory and Food Technology

Email : a_elantari@yahoo.fr

Dr. Abderraouf EL ANTARI, PhD (Food Science) Specialized in Quality and Technology of olive oil from University of Caddy Ayyad, Morocco. Researcher of the INRA Marrakesh in Olive Program since 1995 to 2006, and in Plant Breeding and Quality Unit since 2006. His work is focused on characterization of virgin olive oil and to perform extraction and quality. Since 2000 he is initiator of model establishment of technological protection of olive oil from local origin in Morocco (Establishment of olive oil DOP).

Abderraouf EL ANTARI Co-author of more than 60 articles and communications. Now, he works in several research projects on olive oil, Argane Oil, and Cactus oil.

He is an expert for the international Olive Oil Council (IOOC) relative to olive characterization and varietal identification and member of Committee of expert tasters with IOOC. He's member of the international panel Mario Solinas quality Award 2014.

Founder and leader of Regional panel of Marrakesh and Member of the official olive oil taste panel of Morocco (Rabat, Morocco), Official member of the jury of the competition of local products in Morocco. Initiator since 2006 the regional olive oil quality award in Marrakesh.