

RICHARD WOLNY

Richard Wolny from Germany is a copy writer and food journalist who has been working in the wine and olive oil business for 19 years. He is the organizer of the "Experience the World of Olive Oil" show at Biofach, the world's leading trade fair for organic food. This special show allows all visitors to taste the different olive oils from the exhibitors of the trade fair in one place. In addition to this, Richard Wolny oversees the Olive Oil Award of Biofach, which he developed. What makes this award particular is that the visitors select the best olive oils in a blind tasting and that the winners receive the prizes on site during the fair. Being member of the German Olive Oil Panel (DOP), which is certified by the International Olive Oil Council, Richard Wolny is part of the German network of panel tasters. A fact that allows him to foster the communication amongst olive oil experts in Germany.
